

Every student deserves a place to dream.

Become an NRL Cowboys House Bed Donor

Every year, students from some of Queensland's most remote communities arrive at NRL Cowboys House ready to pursue their dreams through education. Living away from family and Country takes enormous courage, making a safe and welcoming place to call home essential.

NRL Cowboys House is a unique and culturally safe boarding facility, removing distance as a barrier to quality secondary education for Indigenous students from some of Australia's most remote and regional communities as they attend partner schools in Townsville.

Your annual tax deductible donation creates a comfortable and welcoming space where a student can rest, study and feel at home.

Every Bed Donation includes a quality bed, fresh linen, a study desk and chair, along with the everyday essentials that make a room feel like home. More than a bedroom, each space becomes a place where students can focus on their education, pursue their goals and build the future they are working hard to create.

Open the door to a home away from home where students can pursue their dreams through education.
